VOLUME FALLS ROUGHLY 20%, SAYS BCG REPORT

Foreign deals by Indian firms offset overall fall in M&As

FE BUREAU
Bengaluru, September 21

INDIAN COMPANIES ARE buying more abroad even as foreign acquirers pull back from India, according to a report by Boston Consulting Group (BCG) released on Monday.

Outbound deal value, where Indian strategic buyers acquired targets outside the country, rose 76% to $8.8 billion in the first seven months of 2026 from $5 billion a year ago even as the number of outbound deals fell 19% to 92. Over the same period, inbound deal value, where foreign buyers acquired Indian targets, fell 58% to $2.7 billion. The domestic deal value, covering Indian buyers acquiring Indian targets, fell 14% to $10.1 billion, the data showed.

The overseas buying helped keep India's overall M&A value nearly flat, down 2% so far this year, even though deal volume fell by roughly 20%. The drop in volume was slightly steeper than the global decline of about 18%.

"The Indian outbound story isn't just the large conglomerates anymore. We are seeing mid-sized companies buy capabilities and market access abroad and that is a healthy sign on confidence," said Dhruv Shah, managing director and partner, BCG.

BCG identified three reasons Indian companies are buying abroad. The first is the internationalisation of supply chains in sectors where Indian firms already compete globally, such as Sun Pharma's acquisition of Organon. The second is access to order books and business development capacity in established markets, as with LTM's purchase of Randstad and Mphasis's acquisition of Theory and Practice Business Intelligence.

The third, which the report calls arguably the most consequential, is buying capabilities that cannot readily be sourced in India, chiefly AI-enabled IT services. BCG cited Coforge's acquisition of Encora and Infosys' deals for Versent and Stratus. IT services buyers, it said, have rotated out of business process outsourcing, cybersecurity and data analytics and into verticalised AI capability, choosing to buy rather than build.

The shift overseas came as buyers across the market placed fewer but larger bets. Deals worth more than $1 billion made up half of India's deal value in January-July 2026, up from 34% a year earlier, while deals above $500 million accounted for 59%, against 49%. Transactions above $100 million held up better than the broader market, with 45 deals so far this year against 51 in the same period of 2025 and 37 in 2024.

Most of the contraction was in small deals. Transactions below $1 million accounted for about half of the fall in deal volume, far more than their share of total deals, the report added. BCG said this reflected investors' caution towards deals that did not move the needle or involved less proven segments.

MID-SIZE FIRMS GAIN GROUND

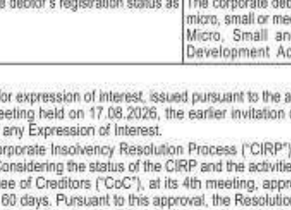

- Outbound deal value, where Indian strategic buyers acquired targets outside the country, rose 76% to $8.8 bn
- Inbound deal value, where foreign buyers acquired Indian targets, fell 58% to $2.7 bn
- Deals worth more than $1 billion made up half of India's deal value in January-July 2026, up from 34% a year earlier

Hosur plant our base for Aequs 2.0: CEO

NARAYANAN V
Belagavi, September 21

AIRBUS AND BOEING supplier Aequs is betting on its Hosur manufacturing plant to drive the next phase of growth, as it looks to expand beyond aerostructure component supply into high-value aero-engine and complex landing-system components.

"We have (Aequs) version 2.0 getting launched in Hosur," Aravind Melligeri, executive chairman and CEO, Aequs, told FE. The company plans to operationalise the first plant in Hosur during the second half of FY27-28, with revenue expected to start flowing in FY29.

Aequs last year signed an MoU with the Tamil Nadu government to set up a ₹1,900-crore facility in Hosur focused on aero-engine and complex landing-gear components.

Melligeri said the choice of Hosur is to capitalise on the ecosystem advantage. Rolls-Royce and Hindustan Aeronautics already operate a joint venture manufacturing facility in Hosur focused on producing advanced jet-engine compressor and turbine components.

Maruti to bring ITIs to JIMs level

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, September 21

IN A BID to make vocational training closely aligned with industry requirements, country's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki plans to upgrade 31 Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) to the standards of its Japan-India Institutes for Manufacturing (JIMs) with an investment of close to ₹100 crore in two years.

The JIM is part of joint government initiatives by Japan and India to skill manufacturing-related human resources in India. It combines government-approved ITI courses with industry-specific training, industry-standard equipment and experienced industry trainers to provide government-approved National Trade Certificate ITI programmes as well as short-term industry-focused courses.

The company also aims to increase the female student intake at its Japan-India Institute for Manufacturing at Manesar to 30% by the Academic Year 2028-29 from current 9%, in a bid to enhance women's participation in the country's automotive manufacturing workforce.

Stellantis raises stake in India JV to 100%

AKBAR MERCHANT
Mumbai, September 21

STELLANTIS INDIA HAS acquired the remaining equity stake held by CK Birla Group firm Hindustan Motor Finance Corporation (HMFCL) in Stellantis Automobiles India (SAIPL), taking 100% ownership of the joint venture and its car assembly facility in Thiruvallur, Tamil Nadu. The transaction, executed through foreign direct investment, brings to an end the joint venture formed in 2017 between Stellantis and the CK Birla Group, which marked the entry of French automaker Citroen into India.

The Thiruvallur plant currently manufactures four Citroen models, the C3, eC3 EV, the C3 Aircross and Basalt and also ships completely built units to eight export markets.

With full control of the facility, Stellantis plans to increase annual production at Thiruvallur by more than 160%, from 16,000 units in 2026 to over 43,000 units by 2028. The expansion is also expected to more than double the plant's direct shopfloor workforce from the current 610 employees.

Shailesh Hazela, CEO and Managing Director, Stellantis India, said, "Having invested close to ₹11,000 crore in the country to build a strong manufacturing, engineering and export ecosystem, we continue to see significant opportunities ahead."

Besides Thiruvallur, Stellantis operates its primary Indian manufacturing hub in Ranjangaon, Pune, through FIAPL, a 50:50 joint venture with Tata Motors.
